

Editorial Note

The present volume addresses the most acute Public Law issues of this century. The articles reflect on topics of dialogical constitutional law, abusive constitutionalism, judicial activism in social security, dynamics of constituent power, European integration, euthanasia and assisted suicide, and the protection of legitimate expectations.

The commentary on jurisprudence focuses on the regulatory takings in investment arbitration. The book reviews critically analyze two important works: “The Portuguese Constitution in a Global Context” (Rui Medeiros) and “National Space Legislation: a Comparative and Evaluative Analysis” (edited by Annette Froehlich and Vincent Seffinga).
